

PAIGE BALLAGH

"Honest folk-pop — songs, stories, and small moments that matter."

Latest Release

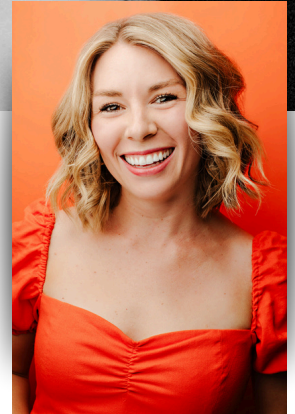

OH MAGGIE

Oh Maggie is a reflective folk-pop EP about finding your way back to yourself. Produced by JUNO Award-winner Jake Charron of The East Pointers, it blends East Coast warmth with honest songwriting that celebrates small moments.

Bio

Paige Ballagh is a singer-songwriter, poet, and storyteller based in Ontario. With a warm, house-concert style and a mix of music, poetry, and laughter, Paige brings audiences into her world with honest lyrics, playful humour, and heartfelt connection. Her latest EP Oh Maggie blends personal stories with soulful melodies, following the success of her debut album Shoes Untied and her poetry collection Waking Up. Whether performing on stage or sharing poems between songs, Paige invites listeners into a joyful, down-to-earth night full of stories and heart.

“

Paige Ballagh is one of Canada's next great songwriters and voices. She's got a powerful voice, a real sweetness on stage, and a way of drawing people in that feels totally natural. I love her new EP Oh Maggie—and I can't wait to see her on more festival stages across the country!

”

Tim Chaisson

Juno Award winner & Co-Director of Goolaholla Festival

Paige
Scan for more information

519-357-5085

contact@paigeballagh.com

